WHY DO WE DO THAT? - Catholic Traditions Explained

Q: I wonder if there's anything I can do to influence my friends to get involved in church--and even go more often? Can you help?

A: Evangelization is always a delicate balance. Faith itself is a gift, yet it needs to be nourished. So any influence you have needs to be the kind that encourages and invites deeper commitment, stronger faith, and a desire for God. Being preachy or overly pious often has the exact opposite effect. In the Gospel Jesus says you will know a tree by its fruit. Show others the fruit of the church's work and ministry. Look for activities, service projects, special events, outreach programs, etcetera, that you can invite them to. Introduce them to the priest and pastoral staff. Use personal contact to make others feel welcome and comfortable. The best way to be a witness to the faith is by doing. When your friends, cradle Catholics or not, see what you do and what the community of faith does to live and spread the Gospel, they'll want to be part of it. People are drawn to be part of something that is good, helpful, and makes their lives better. You just have to show them that the church is more than just Sunday Mass or a stopover for Christmas or Easter. Jesus called the apostles with little more than "Come and see!" You can too.

GOSPEL MEDITATION (LUKE 18: 9-14)

"Whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and the one who humbles himself will be exalted." The Pharisee and the tax collector--polar opposites by practice. The one is a religious leader, a professional follower-of-the-law. The other is a deviant who extorts money for himself as he goes about his economic business. But in today's parable, Jesus flips these perceptions around. The humble tax collector is the one who "went home justified." Whereas the Pharisee has a flawless outer appearance, when we see a glimpse into his inner thoughts we detect his vanity and presumption. We see a man who may keep the letter of the law, but who is not truly converted to God's ways in his heart. The tax collector, on the other hand, pleads for God's mercy, recognizing that he needs it.

So, which one are we? Honestly, most of us are probably a combination of these two character types. Most of us follow God's laws some of the time, and fail to do so at other times. But the important point is to honestly acknowledge when we do fail, and to ask God to have mercy upon us. If we think we have nothing about which to plead for mercy, chances are we are living in a kind of self-imposed blindness like the Pharisee. When we won't admit we need help, it's hard to get the help we need! Instead, we should humble ourselves by honestly examining our conscience (regularly!) and seeking God's forgiveness, particularly through reconciliation, the great sacrament of divine mercy.

As hard as it may be for some of us to confess our sins to a priest, this humble act of acknowledging our failings prepares us to be "justified" like the tax collector who cried out, "Be merciful to me a sinner!"

MOST REVEREND
MICHAEL R. COTE, D.D.

Office of the Bishop
201 Broadway
Norwich, Connecticut 06360
(860) 887-9294

My dear sisters and brothers in Christ,

The theme of this year's respect life month is "moved by mercy." In the midst of this extraordinary jubilee of mercy we echo the words of Pope Francis in his bull Misericordiae Vultus: "Mercy is the force that reawakens us to new life and instills in us the courage to look to the future with hope."

"Moved by mercy" we proclaim the incomparable dignity and worth of every human person from conception until natural death. Pope Francis notes that "in this holy year we look forward to the experience of opening our hearts to those living on the outermost fringes of society: fringes which modern society itself creates. How many uncertain and painful situations there are in the world today. How many are the wounds borne by the flesh of those who have no voice." Moved by mercy you and I give a voice to the unborn, the poor, the victims of war, gun violence, civil strife and the elderly. Francis adds: "Let us open our eyes and see the misery of the world, the wounds of our brothers and sisters who are denied their dignity, and let us recognize that we are compelled to heed their cry for help."

Every night the evening news recounts what appears to be increasing violence. Saint John Paul II prophetically warned about an exalted notion of freedom, a freedom separate from truth, in his encyclical The Gospel of Life: "If the promotion of the self is understood in terms of absolute autonomy, people inevitably reach the point of rejecting one another. Everyone else is considered an enemy from whom one has to defend oneself." Moved by mercy we need to reject this worldview, a worldview based on relativism, which no longer holds the most fundamental right, the right to life.

In this year of mercy the church extends its heart and arms to those hurt by abortion. Advances in psychological studies have shown that women and men are carrying heavy burdens because of abortion. The church is here to help. Project Rachel is available as well as counseling services provided by Catholic Charities and the Office of Family Life. Crisis pregnancy centers are available throughout the Diocese to assist women with material resources in a pregnancy.

Families with special needs children are particularly close to the heart of Our Holy Father and are central to building a culture of life. In Amoris Laetitia, The Joy of Love, Pope Francis notes: "Families who lovingly accept the difficult trial of a child with special needs are greatly to be admired. They render the church and society an invaluable witness of faithfulness to the gift of life."

"Moved by mercy", together we can work together to build a culture that welcomes, nurtures, and values life at its weakest and most vulnerable moments. It is an encouraging sign of the times. Let us, as Pope Francis concludes in Misericordiae Vultus, "never tire of extending mercy, and be ever patient in offering compassion and comfort."

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Michael R. Cote

Bishop of Norwich

A "Baby Bottle Campaign" will be held throughout the month of October, raising funds to benefit ABC WOMEN'S CENTER (abcwomenscenter.org) in Middletown. Please take a bottle to fill with donations from the cradle in the narthex and assist women & children in need. Bottles will be collected on Oct 29 & 30.

For KIDS!! (and the young at heart!) Sharing the Gospel

If you have ever thought that you were better than somebody else, you are not alone. Even grown-ups think that way sometimes. The truth is, you really are not better than anyone else: you sin. You make mistakes, just like other people do. No matter how big or how small you think your mistakes are, they still make God angry, even though He still loves you. Instead of looking down on other people, remember your own mistakes. Ask God to forgive you.

Prayer for the Week Dear God, I am so sorry I have thought I was better than somebody else. Please forgive me.

Mission for the Week

Ask everyone in your class to make cards for people in prison. Jesus knows when people are truly sorry for what they have done wrong. Jesus wants to forgive prisoners, just like he wants to forgive you.
